Advocating for vaccines doesn't have to start and stop in the exam room. Instead, nationally recognized pediatrician Dr. Todd Wolynn will talk through your role as a vaccine supporter both in the exam room and online where your patients are reachable.

CEO of Kids Plus Pediatrics in Pittsburgh, PA, Dr. Wolynn has been deeply involved with immunizations for over two decades as a clinical vaccine researcher, immunizing pediatrician, disinformation researcher, advisor, speaker and advocate. During the Pandemic his efforts to combat medical, science and vaccine disinformation have been significantly amplified via his work on TikTok @DrToddWo.
